Dear Friends,

Thank you for helping us celebrate 40 years of providing life-changing service monkeys to people living with mobility impairments! Your support and generosity are what make our work possible.

Our newest recipient, Brett, spent 2018 getting to know his service monkey, Sophie. You can learn more about their experience and how Brett's wife, Kristen, plays an important role in their relationship on page 4.

While we continued our important work of placing service monkeys, 2018 brought many changes to Helping Hands. In November, the Board appointed Angela Lett as the permanent Executive Director following a national search. We also welcomed three new members to our Board of Directors. We are excited to continue this important work together and look forward to what 2019 will bring.

You will notice this report is a bit thinner than usual because it covers our partial fiscal year January 1, 2018–September 30, 2018. Therefore, if you typically donate at the end of the calendar year, you might not see your name in this report. Additionally, our financial statement reflects only the partial year since we cannot provide a year-over-year comparison.

Thank you for your continuing commitment and all you make possible for our recipients!

With deepest gratitude,

Angela Lett

OUR MISSION

Established in 1979, Helping Hands: Monkey Helpers for the Disabled is a national nonprofit 501(c)3 organization that raises and trains capuchin monkeys to provide daily assistance to people living with spinal cord injury or other mobility impairments.

Helping Hands supports each service monkey and his or her human partner during their many years together through interactive mentoring of the placement, and close supervision of the monkey's behavioral, nutritional, and veterinary needs.

Relying on private contributions, Helping Hands provides these specially trained service animals and their lifetime support free of charge to our recipients.

Tails of Success: Kristen's Caregiving Story

"When [something like this] falls in your lap, you don't have any other choice. You do what you have to do." —Kristen

First placement:
Robert and Hellion

Life can change in an instant. No one knows that better than Kristen Shaw.

Kristen is the wife of our newest recipient, Brett, and they have been happily married for 24 years. Seventeen years into their marriage, Brett suffered a C4-C5 complete spinal cord injury on his way home from work. He fell asleep at the wheel and crashed into concrete the height of his bumper. At the time of his accident, their two daughters were 10 and 13.

Kristen did what many of us would do in that situation: she arranged for the best medical care for someone she loves. Her research led them to a specialty hospital and rehabilitation center in Atlanta, Georgia—450 miles from home.

For two months straight, Kristen and Brett spent eight hours every day in the hospital's inclusive inpatient rehabilitation program. Brett had to re-learn all the skills that we take for granted while Kristen learned how to care for someone living with a spinal cord injury. A training sign-off checklist ensured Kristen's competency. She summarizes, "they provide those services and they also made sure you were educated on those services." These types of services are limited where the Shaw's live. There was no one to offer the 24-hour home care that Brett required. Once home, Kristen added the term "caregiver" to an already impressive narrative including mother, schoolteacher, and friend.

She'll tell you that caring for Brett has been a steep learning curve. The Shaw daughters had a large role in their father's care, "They had to grow up quick!" Kristen exclaimed.

Brett, in the meantime, was figuring out what he needed. He was more homebound now. Days seemed longer. He thought a service animal could offer the independence and companionship he so greatly desired. A service dog

"You know when you're not in the best mood or you don't really feel like doing much you can come in here and it's always kind of uplifting. She can always make you smile because she is just so funny to watch. That's the biggest thing. That she can kind of turn your mood around sometimes."

—Brett, discussing his relationship with Sophie

did not seem practical for his type of mobility impairment. Brett's search for the right service animal led him to Helping Hands: Monkey Helpers. He was immediately captivated. He liked the idea of a smaller service animal with the ability to perform various household tasks. Six months later, he began the application process for a service monkey.

Helping Hands application process is very thorough. Monkeys, like humans, have their own individual personalities and we base "monkey matchmaking" on the personalities of both the recipient, their family, and the monkey. Quiet and gentle-natured Brett was the perfect match for a little capuchin named Sophie.

Introducing a service animal into the home is a decision that affects the entire family. One eligibility requirement for a service monkey is to identify one primary caregiver or family member that will care for the monkey. The ever-optimistic Kristen was committed to the idea. She wanted to "take the situation and try to make it better." Kristen learned that even a small capuchin monkey is a lot of responsibility. Monkeys require greater care than the Shaw's domestic animals. Kristen attests, "it's not a totally easy gig to take care of [Sophie] because you do have to have a plan."

This January, Sophie celebrated her first anniversary with the Shaw's. They know her personality and she knows Brett and Kristen's as well. Brett remains at the top of Sophie's hierarchy. Kristen jests, "He's still definitely her number one. Me? I'm just more that lady that does things for [Sophie]." At the end of the day, Kristen and the girls "know the whole purpose of having [Sophie] here is to bring something else into his life."

Kristen's unwavering care and support for both Brett and Sophie has allowed Brett to focus on what he needs to live a purposeful and happier life. You are the caregivers to both our monkeys and recipients. Your continued support as we celebrate our 40th Anniversary ensures that each recipient-monkey pair is living their lives to the fullest. For that, we thank you.

HELPING HANDS: MONKEY HELPERS WELCOMES THREE NEW MEMBERS TO THE

Board of Directors

AARON RISSLER

Mr. Rissler is currently the Director of Enrollment for CollegeVine, a Cambridge based start-up focused on leveling the playing field of college admissions, regardless of socioeconomic status. Prior to his time in edtech, Mr. Rissler worked to improve access to comprehensive eye care at 2020 On-site Optometry where he partnered with Boston, Atlanta, and Chicago public schools and businesses. However, his first step in mission-oriented, early-stage venture-backed start-ups was with BiddingForGood—an industry leading online fundraising and event management platform for schools and nonprofits. Additionally, Mr. Rissler looks to leverage his experience in operations, customer success, and business development to drive the mission of Helping Hands: Monkey Helpers.

"I hadn't really understood the full exposure of folks with traumatic spinal cord injuries or other kinds of injuries that resulted in loss of mobility. It's enough just to be able to see the new path forward and see how much the monkeys are helping to enrich folks' lives."

—Aaron Rissler

"Throughout college and my professional career I have always tried to volunteer my time to organizations whose mission revolves around improving the lives of others. Helping Hands has provided another outlet for me to give something back to the community and others. I am always looking for new experiences that enrich both my life and the lives of others and Helping Hands feels like a very good fit!" —Dan Skehan

SARAH DAVIS

Dr. Davis has been providing direct patient care as a dentist in Lexington for over 20 years. Dr. Davis is a member of the ADA and the MDS. Originally from Iowa, Dr. Davis lives in Chelmsford, MA where she serves as an elected town representative. She is a graduate from the University of Iowa and Boston University Goldman School of Dental Medicine. She enjoys the Speakers Series, Boston Ballet, and Merrimack Repertory Theater. She is a supporter of the Merrimack Repertory Theater, MSPCA, ASPCA, Humane Society, and the Pat Brody Cat Shelter. She became involved with Helping Hands through our annual fundraising event, Festivale, and was thrilled to become a co-chair of the event. She looks forward to bringing her enthusiasm and knowledge to Helping Hands.

DAN SKEHAN

Mr. Skehan is the financial controller at Keyes North Atlantic, Inc., an electrical and mechanical contractor specializing in the installation and servicing of environmental and safety related systems in eastern Massachusetts. Previously Dan worked as an accountant for one of the largest regional public accounting firms in Massachusetts. During this time he worked with multiple nonprofits of varying size and mission in preparation and review of various financial, compliance, and tax related deliverables. Mr. Skehan hopes to leverage his experience to assist Helping Hands and its finance committee in pursuit of the mission of Helping Hands: Monkey Helpers.

"I want to be a part of helping the organization achieve its goals and give back to something that makes a difference in people's lives. The dedication of the team members is very exciting, and I want to support that." —Sarah Davis

Financial Summary

Our financial statements have a different look this year. As discussed last year, the Board of Directors decided to change our fiscal year from one ending on December 31 to one ending September 30. This was done to facilitate planning and forecasting, as nearly 40% of our revenue comes in the last quarter of the calendar year. To accommodate this change, Helping Hands completed a short 9-month fiscal year (called a “stub” year) from January 1, 2018 through September 30, 2018. It is the results of this stub year that are included in this report. Since reporting a stub year is a one-time event, there are no comparisons available to a prior period.

Our total revenues and gains for the 9-month period were $724,241 and total expenses before depreciation were $932,923, resulting in an operating shortfall of $208,682. This operating deficit was larger than we have reported in the past, but was expected due to the period of time covered, which excluded October through December, our largest revenue months. The operating shortfall was covered by our operating reserves, which we maintain for just this purpose. The reserves are maintained in bank accounts and in our unrestricted investment portfolio. Our new fiscal year started October 1, 2018 and will run through September 30, 2019.

Our investment portfolios continued to provide steady support for our programs. During a period of volatile financial markets, our portfolios, which are conservatively invested, provided returns of approximately 4% over the 9-month period. At the end of September, our unrestricted investments at Neuberger Berman had a value of $920,117. The restricted endowment funds, including the Charles Evans Funds and the Earl Rogers Trust, had a combined value of $554,630. We receive annual distributions of 5% from each of the restricted funds, which are used for operating expenses.

Our Building Committee continued its work in 2018 looking into the possibility of renovating our existing building to better house all of the monkeys in our care, both those in training and those in after-service care. The Committee has hired both an architect and an attorney to help with the process of creating a functional design to meet our needs and dealing with permitting and variances for the building renovation. We are actively working on financing for the project and have already received pledges for a capital campaign for the renovation.

Looking ahead to 2019, we expect another year of challenges and progress at Helping Hands. We have a new Executive Director in place and are well into our search for a new Director of Development. This leadership team will be tasked with implementing our next strategic plan and moving ahead with the renovation project. Our solid financial position should provide a stable platform for these efforts as well as support for our ongoing programs.

Capuchin Caretakers:

A very special thank you to our Capuchin Caretakers—donors who make an automatic monthly contribution to Helping Hands in an amount that works for them.

Your steady support throughout the year means:

- The best care for every monkey in training and retirement at The Monkey College, including optimal nutrition, individualized training, ample play time, and regular veterinary check-ups.
- Ongoing support for recipients across the country throughout the lifetime of their service monkey placement, including being able to contact a Helping Hands trainer at any time, day or night.
- Lowered administrative costs so more of your donation goes to help recipients and our monkey helpers.

Helping Hands is pleased to count our Capuchin Caretakers among our most ardent supporters. You make a difference every day in the lives of our recipients and monkey helpers!

If you'd like to join this special group of supporters and become a Capuchin Caretaker, you can learn more and sign up securely online at: monkeyhelpersdonate.org/monthly

Facebook Fundraisers

Thank you to everyone who has held a Facebook Fundraiser on our behalf!

More than 50 people raised more than $9,000 during 2018—and we've seen even more support in 2019. Facebook Fundraisers are an effective way for you to share the work we do here at Helping Hands. Your friends learn about our special service monkeys and the people they help, and their gifts support our work. In all, the simple act of creating a Facebook Fundraiser has far-reaching effects.

If you'd like to support Helping Hands by creating a Facebook Fundraiser, you can learn more here: www.monkeyhelpers.org/fbfundraiser

We have attempted to be as accurate as possible in listing our donors. While we do not have space in this publication to print the names of every single contributor, we remain forever grateful for every gift of every size to Helping Hands. Please accept our sincere apologies if there are any errors or omissions and let us know so that we can correct our records.

We are grateful to you, our generous individuals, foundations, and businesses who support Helping Hands: Monkey Helpers. You enable us to create and support these priceless partnerships.

We also sincerely appreciate all of the federal, state, local, and municipal employees who make their donations to Helping Hands through the Combined Federal Campaign (CFC #11196) or Independent Charities of America.

Thanks to you, all of our service animals and life-time support of placements are provided at no cost to the recipients.
